Want Mokena Board to Assure Program of Annexation

J. H. Johansen, of Chicago, stating that he is representing some real estate developers, appeared before the Mokena village board Tuesday night and asked that body to give him assurance that Mokena will annex the 640-acre site of the proposed development.

The site is on U.S. 30, on the James Owens farm. There are 412 acres north of U.S. 30 and 128 acres south of the highway. When Johansen appeared before the board early in July, he stated that unless the property is annexed to the village the developers are not interested in acquiring the land. He indicated that the program called for building a thousand homes.

It would take some time to work out the proposed annexation, it was said, but Johansen indicated that his clients might proceed if he had the assurance of the board that annexation would take place.

Four members of the board, Mayor James Marti and Trustees Willard Munch, Phil Hacker and Charles Hostert indicated they were favorably disposed to the project but Trustees Ray Westlund and Lyman Teague were opposed to taking any action at this time. They point

Will Explain Project And Answer Questions Residents May Have

Launch Plans For Sewer and Disposal Plant At Frankfort

The Frankfort village board has revived the plan for a sewer system and sewage disposal plant to serve that community.

At its meeting Monday night the board retained the Mulford Engineering firm of Chicago Heights to start the project again, from scratch.

This is the same firm of engineers that drew up sewer plans for Frankfort several years ago and revised them prior to a referendum on a bond issue to finance the program.

The election was held last Feb. 23 and the proposal to issue $153,968 of bonds was defeated 150 to 110.

A public meeting was held a few days prior to election at which the engineers were questioned about the plans. It is the opinion of board members and others who were at the meeting that some of the questions were not clearly answered. Many in the audience later expressed an opinion that the proposed trunk lines were not large enough.

As soon as the engineers complete their plans and estimates of costs they will be made public and this time backers of the improvement hope that all persons with questions will be satisfied. Before the plans are ready there will be a lot of preliminary work to be done, it was explained.

Sewage from Frankfort now finds its way into Hickory creek. At this time Hickory creek is a hot potato and is getting attention from federal as well as state officials because of recent floods.

Joliet is pressing for flood control measures and indication is that such pressure will be maintained for months to come. Joliet also is complaining about the raw sewage that is being dumped into Hickory creek from all the area it drains.

Any flood control measures, it was pointed out, are expected to include orders concerning sewage disposal and the Frankfort village board, Mayor George Sangmeister said, does not want that community to be caught in the middle of what might become quite a hassle.

In reviving plans for a sewer system now, the mayor said, the board is acting to anticipate mandatory action by the state.

L-W Girls Attend Student Council Workshop at Normal

Norma Heidrich of New Lenox and Patricia Bradley of Frankfort, both students at Lincoln-Way high school, left Monday morning to attend a three-day workshop of the student council members at Normal college, Normal, Ill. They returned Wednesday. Dr. Ralph Wright also attended the conference.

Frankfort Board To Pay Garbage Collection Bill

Frankfort is to have garbage collection as a municipal service.

Frankfort residents have been getting garbage collection by direct payment to the disposal firm, Freeland P. Streepy, of Joliet.

But now the village board has entered into a contract with Streepy beginning as of Aug. 1, under which the village will pay the bill. The contract calls for payment of $3,000 a year.

Mayor George Sangmeister, who proposed the action to the board, explained that the cost will be met out of general funds and will not cause any increase in taxes.

Municipalities can levy a separate tax to defray the cost of collecting garbage and rubbish but such a step is not necessary in the case of Frankfort.

Unregistered Pupils to Sign At L-W Aug. 20

All prospective students who plan to attend Lincoln-Way next fall, but who have not previously registered, should do so on Aug. 20. On that date they should report to the high school at 9:30 in order to take a battery of tests to help determine which courses they should enroll for.

Since the new classrooms will not be completed by September, there will be very little flexibility in schedules and it is essential that enrollment be completed before school starts if students hope to get the courses which they desire.

It will not be possible to complete the registration and testing during the morning, so all students should bring sack lunches or make other arrangements for lunch. The lunch period will be 12:00 to 1:00.

This announcement does not apply to students who were in attendance at Lincoln-Way last year or to those incoming freshmen who came to the school on Step-Up Day.

Three University of Illinois entomologists each travel from 400 to 1,000 miles a week over the state checking insect populations in order to issue warnings and recommend proper treatment to prevent major crop damage and to save growers money.

The Lions club of Mokena is backing the sewer project and is making plans now for a house-to-house canvass to explain the program and answer questions which property owners may have.

The engineer, Robert Hamilton, will be in Mokena on the evening the canvass is carried out to furnish information in the event the Lions are unable to give the answers.

The primary purpose of the canvass is to get the property owners to sign applications for service. Each application is to be accompanied by a deposit of $10. The date of the canvass has not been set.

It was announced when the applications were sent out that the average minimum bill would be $6.90 a month, for water and sewer service. This would mean a total of approximately $82 a year. The present average water bill is $25 a year which would mean, it was pointed out, that the increase would be approximately $58 more. It would really be less than that, officials explained, because they intend to raise the water rates regardless of whether the sewer system and sewage disposal plant is built.

Some persons have asked how much the maximum bill would be. Officials explain that it would be impossible to give a maximum because no one is able to forecast how much water a family or business firm will use in a year.

At the meeting of the village board Tuesday night a resolution was adopted accepting the plans and specifications for the sewer system and treatment plant and is preparing now to ask for bids.

As soon as 350 applications for service have been signed the bond houses are expected to dispose of the bonds. The village will sell $100,000 of general obligation bonds and finance the remainder of the program thru water and sewer bonds. The project is expected to cost approximately $430,000. A part of this cost, $69,000, will come to Mokena as a federal grant that will not have to be repaid. Should the project be dropped now, it was said, the grant would be lost to Mokena.

The proposed sewer system cannot be used to dispose of roof and surface water as the state law prohibits such use but basement drains can be connected, it was explained.

Fire Dept. Would Enlarge Village Hall

The Mokena Fire Department plans an addition to the village hall to house the new truck it will purchase-providing there is sufficient money to purchase materials after paying for the truck. The labor would be donated by members of the department. This program is as yet only tentative. It was described to the village board but

U.S. Offers Overseas Jobs to Stenographers

Two years overseas—with pay—may sound too good to be true, but it is an opportunity now being offered to young Chicago area stenographers, typists and clerks who are willing to travel anywhere in the world.

Miss Esther Rice and Mrs. Donna Livesay, Personnel Officers from the U. S. Department of State, have set up shop at the Illinois State Employment Service, 73 West Washington st., Chicago, to interview young men and women who are high school graduates, between the ages of 21 and 35, single with no dependents and U. S. citizens in excellent health for jobs with the foreign service and embassies and consulates abroad.

3 Years Experience Necessary
The starting salary for qualified secretaries is $3800. A typing speed of 50 words a minute and shorthand speed of 100 words a minute is required.

Stenographers who type 50 words a minute and write shorthand at 80 words a minute start at a salary of $3390 a year, as do communications clerks (typists with a speed of 45 words a minute will be trained for communications work); and mail and records clerks with a typing speed of 35 words a minute. Mail and pouch clerks and general clerk positions which also require a typing speed of 35 words a minute are open to men only and pay the same entrance salary of $3390 a year. All salaries are supplemented by overseas allowances and free housing. Employees have liberal vacations while overseas and, between each two-year tour of duty, six weeks' home leave at Government expense. All applicants must have three years of general office experience.

Other Jobs Too

Typists 18 years of age who can type 40 words a minute and stenographers who can, in addition, write shorthand at 80 words a minute, are being interviewed for positions in the department of state's headquarters in Washington, D. C. The starting salaries range from $3175 to $3415 a year. No previous experience is required. "These jobs are tailor-made for young people who may wish to enter the foreign service but do not yet qualify from the standpoint of experience or age," Miss Rice said.

Interviews are being conducted at the Illinois State Employment Service, 73 West Washington Street, Chicago thru Aug. 10. Office hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday and from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. Additional information and special appointment can be obtained by telephoning Financial 6-3960.

Fisher Body Gives $41,000 In Scholarships

Patience, perseverance and talent have rewarded 19 American boys with $41,000 worth of university scholarships.

Nine of the boys tonight (Tuesday, July 30) were named national winners in the 1957 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition. They share $31,000 in scholarships ranging in value from $5,000 to $2,000.

Ten more boys have won $1,000 scholarships awarded on the basis of exceptional designing ability.

The patience and perseverance were proved in the approximately 1000 hours each boy spent in building his model. The talent was displayed in fine craftsmanship and design.

The award-winning model cars are the nation's best of more than 2000 models entered in this year's competition. Approximately $77,000 in cash has STILL DANCING. The 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson was a happy event when 75 relatives and friends surprised them in Sanger hall, Tinley Park, last Friday night to celebrate the occasion. The happy couple reminisce as they dance to the sentimental tune of an orchestra. The surprise party was arranged by their daughter, Mrs. Edward DeBlake and son Norman. and regional honors.

19 boys now join 160 previous scholarship winners in the Body by Fisher Hall of Fame. Altogether the 179 master craftsmen have received university scholarships at $525,500.

Since the competition began in 1930, Fisher Body has distributed more than $1,250,000 in national, regional and state awards to youthful craftsmen.

Enrollment for next year's competition begins in September with $115,000 in awards, including the university scholarships, to be distributed.

If you are planning to renovate your lawn, start the job in August. Then you can seed in September.

First, kill all the weeds. 2,4D will kill broadleaved weeds. Don't get any on ornamentals or vegetables as it kills them also.

Next, apply fertilizer and tear up the upper crust of soil and mat of grass. Seed at about 2 pounds per 1000 square feet and water frequently until grass germinates. Then water less frequently and use more water each time.

A University of Illinois circular "How to Have an Attractive Lawn", available free at my office, will help you to start and maintain a lawn that you can be proud of.

It appears that Amino Triazole is fairly effective in controlling thistles at this point in the season. The test plot on the Herb Kohl farm reveals significant differences between treated and untreated plots.

Glenn Hunters Buy Home at New Lenox

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hunter and family who purchased the Richard Harris home just west of New Lenox, and moved there three weeks ago, were in the thick, or should we say deep, of the flood in Joliet recently. They lived at that time on Third ave. and had flood water deep in their home.

Weather Tough On Mankind But Grand for Corn

"This is it—real corn weather—about 100 degrees" exults the DeKalb crop reporter from east central Iowa. And that hot, humid corn belt weather, not fit for man or beast, but wonderful for corn, elicited these comments: Central Illinois—corn has grown three feet in three weeks; northern Minnesota—the hottest and most humid weather in the past ten years; northeastern Nebraska—100 degrees to 105 every day; eastern Illinois—farmer reports his corn growing four inches every 24 hours; western Kansas—104 degrees, 16 days without rain; western Nebraska—over 100 degrees every day last week.

The corn crop needed the hot weather as it is a week to 10 days behind last year. In Illinois which produced the largest crop in the nation last year, height of corn was reported as two feet less than in 1956 at the same date. Nebraska, reported only 5% of the corn tasseled on July 20th as compared to one-third last year. In South Dakota,

Mary Ann Heisner, of Frankfort, Feted At Bridal Shower

Miss Mary Ann Heisner, of Frankfort, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heisner, was honored guest at a bridal shower last Saturday evening, given by Miss Sheila Heisner and Mrs. Harold Heisner, at the latter's home. They were assisted by Mrs. Walter Heisner.

Japanese lanterns decorated the breezeway. Games were played and prizes awarded with duplicate prizes going to the honored guest.

corn was a foot shorter than last year. In Missouri, only one third as much corn was tasseled by mid-July as in 1956.

Need Rain Now

Heavy rains continued to fall up to mid-July. Latest of the areas to receive 9 to 10 inches at a time was south of Chicago in the Kankakee-Watseka area on July 12 and 13. Crops flooded out and drowned out that late in the season cannot be replaced.

The critical time for corn as far as moisture is concerned is during the tasseling and silking periods. This year this critical period will occur a little later than usual and corn will need plentiful rain in the Aug. 1 to 20 period to insure maximum yields. However, in most corn states, the subsoil is well supplied with moisture this year and the crop can draw on that supply if rainfall is deficient.

Corn requires from 400 to 500 pounds of water to produce a pound of dry matter. Since the ear and stalk of an average plant will weigh about one pound, when dry, each stalk requires 50 to 60 gallons of water. This amounts to 25 to 30 inches of water needed to produce a heavy corn crop. In the central corn belt states, Iowa and Illinois have 30 to 40 inches of rain annually, but a certain amount is lost by evaporation and run off.

Tabasco Sparks Picnic Fare

Picnic days are rolling 'round again and chances are you'll be looking for new ways to pep up the traditional hamburger. For tops in enjoyment, add just the right amount of Tabasco, the famous liquid pepper seasoning from down south, to the ground meat before you grill it.

Another hint for giving a new look to this year's picnic is by adding spark to your potato salad. Here again, Tabasco does the trick. The piquant flavor of this red pepper seasoning adds new interest to an old favorite. In fact, you'll want to use Tabasco in many other picnic favorites this year for happier eating.

Picnic Potato Salad

2 pound potatoes (6 cups diced)
1 small onion, chopped
1½ cups diced celery
1½ teaspoons salt

½ cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
¼ teaspoon Tabasco

Cook potatoes in skins until tender. Peel and dice. Add onion and celery; sprinkle with salt. Mix together mayonnaise, mustard, vinegar and Tabasco. Add to potato mixture. Mix lightly with a fork being careful not to break potatoes, chill. To serve, garnish with salad greens and tomato wedges. YIELD: 8 servings.

Emancipation Day Still Observed In Some Places

BY JOHN W. ALLEN

Southern Illinois University

No one seems to know definitely why Emancipation Day first came to be observed on August 8. Likewise, no one tells just when, where and how it began. Nothing has been found concerning its observance on the August date outside of the Southern Illinois—Paducah, Ky., region. Nevertheless, it once was a great day in this area, the greatest gathering day of the Negroes.

One explanation of the Aug. date stated that it was because the time was one of slack labor and the weather was suitable for picnicking. Any small grain crops would have been harvested, corn would be laid by and turnips sowed. Farmers, and nearly all then were farmers, would thus have a few weeks of rest before time to strip cane, cut shockfodder, gather in the fall crops and arrange a wood supply for the winter. It was a good time to hold picnics, reunions, revival meetings, and celebrations.

One newspaper stated that the date in August was selected because it was the one on which the slaves of Santo Domingo, now the Dominican Republic were freed. We have not been able to establish either of these explanations as the more valid one, being inclined, however, to the first.

Observed in Illinois

Likewise, we have been unable to learn definitely the year when the celebration first began. Its first observance in Elizabethtown, Hardin County, Ill., came in 1882. It may have been observed earlier elsewhere. It began in Hardin County with Moses Barker, a farmer living near the village. Barker, a former slave, was one of many Negroes owning farms in the county at that time.

Barker and some of his friends met and talked of observing Emancipation Day. They discussed it with leading white citizens who readily approved and offered their help. Business men and farmers agreed to furnish cattle, sheep and hogs to be barbecued for the occasion. Preparations accordingly were made. Long pits were dug and when the eighth came barbecuing began before daybreak. At noon an ample supply of meat was ready. Whites were invited and many came to visit together, to look on, and to eat barbecue. They continued to attend these yearly meetings and helped to provide meat for the occasion.

Early celebrations were held at the site of the old brickyard in the northwestern part of town. The dancing floor was a smooth plot of hard ground covered with sawdust. Music was furnished by an oldtime fiddler, sometimes supplemented with a banjo performer. Square dances were then, as now, a main feature of the celebration, which is now held in a grove beside the Ohio.

Once Gala Occasion

As the Negro population of the region decreased, so did the number attending. The proportion of whites who came to look on, to visit and to share in the delightful barbecue increased. About 1940 when the writer first attended Emancipation Day there were only about 20 Negroes present.

At his first meeting attended, a very old Negro man, then past 80 years, was sitting under a tree and somewhat wistfully looking on. When "interviewed", he told of attending the first celebration held almost 60 years earlier. He told of the wagons that stood about and of the horses tied to them. He told of the long barbecue pits, of the men working at them and of the Negro women who danced barefoot in the sawdust.

Other places in the area also observed the day in somewhat the same manner. Some of these were Metropolis, Brookport, and Carbondale in Illinois and Paducah in Kentucky. The observances at Metropolis and Brookport drew most of their attendance locally. The one at Carbondale was begun by the late Frank B. Jackson in 1911. Tho it never reached the proportions of the Paducah observance, it drew many hundreds of people and became quite an occasion. It was patterned after the larger one at Paducah, various contests and games were held. Noted bands came to play for the dances. It was a gala occasion. After the passing of Mr. Jackson, its founder, the Carbondale observance was discontinued in 1954.

The celebration at Paducah, still held regularly, once reached great proportions. At its height, thousands came by excursion trains and by river steamers. Many special trains filled the sidings near Eleventh and Broadway, and steamers were tied to the wharf. These excursions brought people from many places, like St. Louis, Chicago, Louisville, Cairo and numerous other towns. In 1905 special trains from Memphis alone brought 2000 persons. There were more than 10,000 in attendance.

It remains a day looked forward to in Paducah.

Files $50,000 Suit Against Contractor, Village of Harvey

(CNS) A Harvey resident and two Chicagoans have filed a $50,000 personal injury suit against the city of Harvey and a construction company.

They are James McDonough, 14438 Green street, Harvey, seeking $10,000, and Patrick and Lillian Golden, 8311 S. Racine avenue, Chicago, seeking a total of $40,000, including $30,000 for the woman.

Their Superior court suit said they were injured August 25, 1956, when their car driven by Golden, ran into a hole in a Harvey street under excavation and collided with a metal sewer structure protruding above street level.

No barricade or other warning device was at the scene, the suit alleged. It said the accident occurred in front of 14523 Peoria street.

Other defendants named were Svend T. Berg and Walter Jaeger partners in B.B.J. Corporation, according to the suit filed by the firm of Scheffres, Allen and Hodes.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

Erosion in purchasing power of the dollar, is now getting top headlines in most news sources. The depreciation of the value of the dollar, has not been too great in any one month, but in the last 17 months it has been 5 per cent.

In the ten years from the close of 1946 thru 1955, the depreciation of the dollar, in purchasing power, was above 47 per cent. For those 10 years it would mean that the investor must have had a dividend or interest income of not less than an average of 4 1/2 per cent per year or a combination of interest and dividend return and capital gain, just to avoid a loss in capital thru depreciation of purchasing power.

It has been rather well established that about the only way the investor can protect his savings against loss, is thru ownership of well selected common stocks which will advance in value as the dollar depreciates. It will be noted that the better grade common stocks have been most resistant to depreciation when the general securities markets have been soft.

Command high interest

Government bonds are now selling at the lowest price (highest interest yield) that has been existent for more than 30 years. The same can be said for bonds of states and municipalities even tho they are tax exempt and usually eagerly sought by investors. Many tax exempt borrowers are now having trouble selling their bonds for needed school and general municipal purposes.

Investment firms specializing in tax exempt securities have been hard hit and they must be most cautious in purchasing new issues in which they might have some difficulty interesting the ultimate investor. These investment firms are not investors themselves for their own account. They are merchants who purchase a bond offering from the corporate or municipal organization and sell these bonds to ultimate investors at a small profit which is seldom more than two per cent and often as little as one per cent. They are able, normally, to secure bank funds to carry their obligation for the short time it takes to distribute the bonds to investors. Usually they have to give the bank aiding them, not more than ten per cent of the total issue in collateral to secure the loan. Recent experience has made the banks very reluctant to make loans unless they are convinced the bonds in question, will receive a good investor reception and sold quickly.

Save purchasing power

It is becoming rather obvious that an investment that does not at least keep abreast of dollar depreciation, is a poor investment. Whether they realize it or not, people do not save dollars as a bookkeeping symbol, but rather are trying to save at least the purchasing power for future use, as they have at the time of the saving.

Mutual funds are becoming more and more popular as they usually represent an investor interest in a hundred or more of the common stocks of the country's leading corporations. Mutual funds are designed to give the small and medium sized investor an investment vehicle which offers real diversification

Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. Declares Dividend

The regular quarterly dividend of 35 cents per share on the common stock of the Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation was declared by the board of directors of the company at a meeting at Houston, July 31. The dividend is payable September 1 to stockholders of record at the close of business August 13.

At the same time, Texas Eastern's directors declared the following quarterly dividends on preferred stocks of the company: $1.37-1/2 per share on the 5.50% First Preferred Series; $1.46-1/4 per share on the 5.85% Series; $1.25 per share on the 5.00% Series; $1.43-3/4 per share on the 5.75% Subordinate Convertible Series; $1.18-3/4 per share on the 4.75% Convertible Series; and $1.12-1/2 per share on the 4.50% Convertible Series. Dividends on the six issues of preferred stock are also payable September 1 to stockholders of record August 13.

and the safety as well as growth potential which goes with such diversification. From a practical point of view, if even ten per cent of such a group of top corporations of the country, were to find themselves in trouble, the country as a whole would be affected as this is the life blood of the country.

Members of the Homer Husky Hustlers' 4-H club went to Peotone Wednesday to help prepare the fair grounds for the county 4-H exhibit. Thursday and Friday they brought home a lot of ribbons on their entries which included dairy and beef cattle, rabbits, sheep, pigs, garden produce, baking and sewing. The Little Women, Country Charms and Husky Hustlers are Homer's three clubs.

Ronald and Douglas Ziesemer went Thursday and Friday with the Bruce Andersons and accompanied them to the Fair on Thursday.

Carolyn Drewes returned to New York last week with an uncle and aunt who have been guests of the Drewes family. After sight-seeing in and around New York City for two weeks Carolyn will come home via plane.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Kasper and daughter of California spent a short week-end here and then continued on a trip to the east coast accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kasper, Sr.

Mrs. E. A. Cary and Mrs. Bertha Young of Joliet visited Mrs. F. J. Paddock last Saturday evening.

At the King's Daughters meeting in Homer church Thursday, Mrs. Paddock and Mrs. Ralph Waldvogel gave an account of their recent WLS tour illustrated by photographs and colored slides showing the United Nations, Niagara Falls and Washington D.C. and vicinity. Mrs. Henry Rodgers served delicious dessert-coffee and Mrs. L. E. Storm presided and led the Bible study.

Mrs. Wilbur Francis who sold her household goods last Saturday, will have a room in the home of her son, Wilbur Jr., near Manhattan. During the latter part of August she will spend two weeks in the Hannah Harwood Girl's club in Joliet, substituting for the matron there who will be on vacation.

The school building being erected for Dist. 33-C near Homer town hall, is progressing nicely after being detained by rainy weather, and while there is no chance of its being ready by September, the contractor gives hope of moving into it before very cold weather.

Betty Anderson attended a birthday party Saturday in honor of Mary Francis Baca of E. Seventh St., Lockport.

There will be no Sunday school or church service at Homer church Aug. 11. Some people will go to Berwyn to hear a candidate minister and others expect to take some children to church camp at Tower Hill if their reservations go through. This will be one of the two annual vacation Sundays; another will be decided upon later.

Maj. and Mrs. Fred Thatcher and children of Shreveport, La., were recent visitors in the George Welter home. Maj. Thatcher was on business in Chicago.

Plans are progressing for the cafeteria supper to be held in Homer church Aug. 22 beginning at 5:30 p.m.

SUN'S FUN, BUT TAKE IT EASY!

A healthy tan is fine—but a sun burn can be fatal. Physicians advise—"Take it easy!"

Short periods of exposure—10 to 20 minutes at a time until the skin is tanned to resist the actinic rays. Mid-morning and late afternoon are the safest. At the seashore, remember that salt water driving on the skin adds to the burning property of the sun's rays; don't stay in too long.

Some skin specialists suggest oils, lotions and creams as protection, recommend no shower for 15 minutes after sun bathing, rubbing on oil or lotion generously instead.

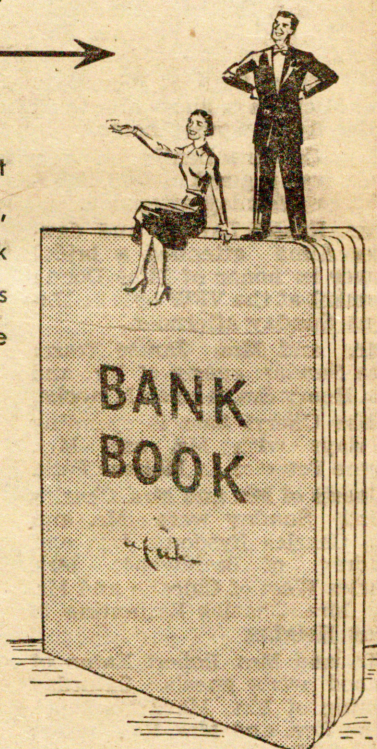

Non-irritating salves or lotions such as vaseline or boric acid, are indicated for sun burn.

Research and development expenditures in the United States in 1956 again set a new high record with a total of $6.5 billion, according to Department of Defense figures. This was more than 3 1/2 times the total a decade ago.

Farewell To Manns

The Wayfarers club entertained at a farewell party Friday evening at a steak dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gerri, 110 Denny st., Mokena, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Mann. There were 28 present. The Manns left by car and house trailer early Saturday morning for Hot Springs, Ark., where it is hoped their health will be improved. The group presented a purse to the Manns with a farewell message. They were accompanied by their son Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mann of Chicago who did the driving. Renting the Mann home are Chief Warrant Officer and Mrs. Charles Walsh and their sons, Ricky and Ronny. CWO Walsh is stationed at Nike camp at Orland Park.

The Amvets Auxiliary held their July meeting in the home of Mrs. Evelyn Shuchki in Joliet. The report on the May dance sponsored by the auxiliary showed $143.52 was cleared which was given to the Retarded Children project. The next meeting will be Aug. 29 in the home of Mrs. Charles Hostert at 8 p.m.

The Women's missionary society of the Park View Baptist church will sponsor a pot luck picnic at Van Horn wood, Thursday Aug. 8 starting at 6 p.m. There will be games also. All church families are invited.

Bridal Shower

A miscellaneous shower was given last Sunday afternoon in the VFW hall by the Misses Mary and Beverly Allison of Joliet to honor their cousin, Miss Donna Schenkel and her approaching marriage. There were 44 guests present.

A program was presented, in the form of a skit, entitled, "This Is Your Single Life." It depicted event in Miss Schenkel's life up to her wedding day. Among those appearing in the skit were Mrs. Merrill McGuire of Joliet, Donna's first dancing teacher and Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel, principal of Mokena public school, Donna's school teacher.

The luncheon table was decorated in orchid and white with a miniature bridal party centering the table. Assisting in the serving were Mrs. Margaret Alvison mother of the hostesses and Mrs. Gus Long Mokena. Miss Schenkel received many beautiful gifts.

The Evening circle of the Methodist church entertained at the farewell party in the social room of the church last Friday evening to wish God-speed to two of their members moving away. They were Mrs. Harley Mann who left with her husband last Saturday for Hot Springs, Ark., and Mrs. Don Becker, who with her family will soon be moving to their new home in Lockport. Games were played and refreshments were served. The group presented each honored guest with a gift.

Former Resident Writes

It is always nice to hear from former Mokena friends. Last week we received a nice letter from Mrs. Tom Tyler, the former Miss Dorothy Krause, from her home in Hayward, Calif. She tells of her daughter Judith Ann leaving July 29 for Bainbridge, Md., where she enlisted in the WAVES, and of her son, James, who has served for the past year in the airforce. He is now stationed at Lankley Field, Norfolk, Va. She says also, "Please keep the paper coming thru. Those were very good pictures of the flood you folks had back there". Dorothy has suggested that we carry a column in her home town paper, The News-Bulletin, wherein, former residents may write concerning their whereabouts and activities, thus allowing former friends to keep in touch with each other. All right. Who will be the next?

Allison and Paige Harland of Vero Beach, Fla., spent a month with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Devlin, 148 First st. Two weeks ago, they and Mrs. Devlin and children motored to Williamsport, Pa., to visit with the latter's mother and to take the Allison to their parent's home in that city. While there they had the good fortune to meet Mr. Devlin's mother, Mrs. Ethel Devlin when she arrived from New York by plane after having spent the past six months with her sisters in Belfast, Ireland. Mrs. Devlin's sons and her mother-in-law, returned to Mokena last Thursday where where Mrs. Ethel Devlin will make an extended visit.

There will be no services in St. John's United church for the next two Sundays and the pastor, the Rev. and Mrs. William Rieman are on vacation. They have motored to Florida.

The Evening circle of the Methodist church will meet Friday evening Aug. 9 with Mrs. Fred Rickett at 8 o'clock.

Schmidt, chairman, assisted by the Mesdames Edward Akers, Harold Behen, Albert Cappel, Everett Creer, Gordon Doctor, Owen Maue, E. G. McMahon and John Yunker.

Two hundred and twenty suburbanites with newly-discovered cases of tuberculosis were hospitalized by the Suburban Cook County Tuberculosis Sanitarium District during the year 1956.

The total number of SCTSD patients in hospitals during the year was 459, reports Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, executive director of SCTSD. SCTSD is the official TB eradication agency in suburban Cook county and operates the large sanitarium at Hinsdale.

Another 67 suburbanites re-entered the hospital for treatment. These persons had been in the hospital at least one other time previously.

More patients in the hospital were from Cicero than any other suburb. There were 56 Cicero residents. Evanston had the second highest number of residents hospitalized—37 of them. Other suburbs which had a high number of residents hospitalized by SCTSD were Maywood, 26; Oak Lawn, 21; Chicago Heights, 20; Berwyn, 18; Melrose Park, 16; Oak Park, 15; Des Plaines, 13; Harvey, 12; and Robbins, 12.

Twenty-four tuberculosis patients died in the sanitarium, and another seven left against medical advice. Physicians approved the discharge of 256 patients.

Average Stay 198 Days

The average number of days spent in the sanitarium by those patients with approved discharges was 198. This compares with 1955, when the average stay of patients at the time of approved discharge was 226 days.

Total cost for treatment of the 459 patients was $1,048,278. This averages out to about $2,284 spent on every patient during the year.

The mobile unit X-ray survey which is carried on during the summer months in the suburbs by SCTSD in co-operation with The Tuberculosis Institute found 98 of the new cases. Private physicians referred another 198 of the patients to SCTSD. The remainder of the new cases were discovered through X-raying of persons close to those found to have the disease; routine employment and hospital admission X-rays; clinical X-rays, and other sources.

Of all the patients treated by SCTSD during 1956, 47 percent of them had far advanced cases of TB and 29 percent moderately advanced cases when their infections were discovered.

Hospitalized by SCTSD from suburbs in your area were the following number of patients.

Now is the time to clip your pastures. If you fail to do so, here is what happens: The tall uneaten plants become mature, low in feeding value and cows won't eat them. Weeds go to seed and use moisture and nutrients needed by pasture crops. Then you have a pasture not so capable of producing plenty of high quality forage.

Orland Nines Lead Police, Ruth Loops

Backers Optimistic Over Teams Chances to Win Both Pennants

Orland Park baseball teams are having a big season.

The Police league team with a record of 11 wins and no defeats have clinched the Southern Division title. There is still a league game to play but after the 5 to 4 triumph over the Midlothian Blues last Sunday, the Orland outfit is in regardless of the outcome of the remaining contest.

Naturally the Orlands will be out to make it 12 in a row and will then train their sights on the county title that will be decided in the play offs to be held in Chicago.

And besides the Police league squad Orland Park has a Babe Ruth team that has won the title for the first half play in the Northern division of the Tri-County (Cook, Will and Kane) league by lacing New Lenox at New Lenox, Aug. 2, 11 to 4.

This is the first division title won by an Orland Park Babe Ruth outfit and the team is hopeful of taking the second half title and then going on to take the Southern division for the league pennant.

Orland Park, Mokena and New Lenox are now battling for title honors in the second half of play in the Northern division.

The Orland teams are backed by the Orland Youth Association, now in its first year as an organization to help advance recreational activities for the young of the community. There are 14 Orland Park men on the committee that operate the Orland Park Youth association and they plan to increase its scope in the future.

Bill Zinn is managing the baseball activities with Ronnie Roman and Red Muehler as coaches. By season's end they hope to bring two trophies and two flags to Orland Park.

Former Champ In Feature Race At Joliet Track

Two former track champions, Ken Rubright of Lyndon and Johnny Riva, Morton Grove, will be gunning for their first feature victory Saturday night in the midget auto races at Joliet Memorial Stadium.

Rubright especially is being watched, since taking over the new, fuel-injection V-8 racer formerly driven by Mike King of Evanston.

"Wild" Willie Wildhaber of Lexington, Ill., also is hoping to finish strong in the bid for the 1957 track title, since winning the big 50-lap mid-season championship race two weeks ago.

Washed out last week

Racing was washed out last week, preventing Bob Tattersall of Streator and George Sellery, Chicago, from attempting to extend their lead in the point standings. Tattersall with four feature race victories and Sellery with three rank one-two in the standings.

Among the other drivers who will attempt to share in the spoils Saturday will be Jack Chapman of Aurora, Paul Kerber of Elgin, Jolietans Bill Barnes, Bernie Wilhelmi and Sonny Bessette, and Lockport's Warren White and veteran Ray Elliott.

Time trials Saturday will start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race at 8:30 p.m. There will be four heat races, a handicap event, 15 lap semifinals and 25 lap feature.

Men's Bowling Loop At Tinley to Begin Season on Sept. 6

U. of I. Will Give Short Course For D.H.I.A. Testers

A short course for the Dairy Herd Improved Association testers has been scheduled from Aug. 19 to 24, at the University of Illinois, according to Alden Hickman, Will County Assistant farm advisor. The cost to students will be approximately $30. Rooms and meals are available on the campus. There are no openings for D. H. I. A. Testers in Will county, but there are many openings thruout the state and long remember what we pay here, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue will never forget if we don't. It is for us the living rather to be here dedicated to the unfinished payments which they who made here have thus far so reluctantly advanced.

It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the tremendous payments still remaining before us—that from the examples of these financially bankrupt we take increased deductions for the cause for which they gave the last full measure of their money—that we here highly resolve that these paupers shall not have forked over in vain—that this taxpayer underpaid shall have a new birth of lower taxes and higher wages, and that government of the taxpayer, by the taxpayer, for the taxpayer, shall not perish from the earth."

FISHERMAN'S LUCK—AND ALL GOOD. The catch shown here represents 30 wall-eyes brought home to Orland Park by the Edwin Lucas family after a week's outing at Tomahawk, Wis. That is the number they were allowed to bring home and doesn't include those eaten or those who got away. The fish brought home scaled around 4 1-2 pounds or a trifle under. Mr. Lucas has been fishing at the same place in Tomahawk for the past 15 years and the picture shows that it must be a good one.

Dedicated to the Proposition That All Men are Created Taxable

"The Bureau of Internal Revenues Address," written as a take-off on Lincoln's Gettysburg speech and published in the "White-water (Wis.) Register" during the week of Lincoln's birthday, has been widely reprinted, including reprinting in the Congressional Record.

Written under the by-line of Bruse Estlund, the "address" read:

"Towscore and four years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new misery conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created taxable.

Now we are engaged in a great long form, testing whether that taxpayer, or any other taxpayer so confused and so frustrated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that struggle. We have come to dedicate a portion of our income to the great causes, useless and foolish, which have taken our money that this Nation might continue to support other nations.

And, yet, in a larger sense, we cannot afford, we have not got, we will not have, this hal- lowed money. For the brave taxpayers, broke and penniless, who paid here, have dedicated it far above our poor power to add, subtract, multiply, divide, refer to separate schedule Z, etc.

THE WAGE STORY

When a company gives a general wage rise based on an increase in productivity, that rise has been earned thru more and better production. With goods being turned out more efficiently—at lower unit costs—the company does not have to increase the price of its products to pay for wage improvement.

But forced wage increases are another story. Such wage increases—gained with no regard to whether they have been earned thru productivity—advance production costs at once and prices soon after. Wages are the biggest cost factor.

The result is inevitable. The wage rise is lost in the price rise when waves of forced wage boosts roll across the nation's industry. Employees who have had the wage rises—or those whose wages go up automatically with the cost of living—are able to stay about even. Everyone else loses ground, can buy less.

Real earnings are increased by productivity improvements.
Increased, for our people as a whole. When we try to kid ourselves—it can be otherwise—we wind up with wage increases that nobody really gets.

"GALLOPING SOCIALISM"

The danger to the nation now isn't "creeping socialism"—it is "galloping socialism". Thus writes David Lawrence, one of the country's most respected commentators on public affairs.

Mr. Lawrence's view was prompted by the ever-continuing drive to socialize the electric power resources of this nation.
His concern was over the principle at stake. To quote him directly: "... if it is desirable that the Federal government knock private enterprise out of the electric light and power business in America, it is just as logical for the Federal government to take over and operate the steel, copper, coal, oil, aluminum and other natural resource industries as well as automobile, food and retail stores, railroads, bus lines, air lines and all the other businesses now handled by private enterprise and private investors."

Socialized, tax-exempt electric power takes more tax dollars per capita and saves the consumer fewer pennies per meter than probably any business the government could go into, so its main effect is not to save money but to destroy the American enterprise system of industry.

That is the issue, all the di-versary arguments in the world can't get away from it.
If government should provide one commercial service, it should provide any and all commercial services. Then we would have authoritarian government to the Nth degree. It might be called something else. The name makes no difference. The result is always the same—destruction of liberty, and the enslavement of the individual.

Washington has Taken Over Publisher Tom Anderson of Farm & Ranch magazine points out that "in 1914 state and local government spent 70 per cent of all money spent by government. Now 70 per cent is spent by Washington bureaucrats." Then, to make a bad matter worse, "A big part of our tax money never comes back to us in services—but is lived up by the swarms of bureaucrats whose hands it goes thru."

President Eisenhower has proposed that the states assume responsibility, in whole or in part, for many projects now handled on the federal level.
If the states will do that, the taxpayers will find that they will get more and better service—and for less money.

These four photographs illustrate, from left to right, the steps in the new mouth-to-mouth resuscitation method developed and taught by Red Cross. (1) Mother, using middle finger of right hand, clears child's mouth of any foreign matter. With same finger, she holds the tongue forward. (2) Mother places child in a face-down, head-down, position, and pats her firmly on the back with the free hand to help dislodge any foreign object in the air passage. (3) The child is placed on her back and the mother, using left hand only, holds the jaw from beneath in "jutting-out" position. (4) The mother, covering the child's mouth and nose with her mouth, breathes into the child with a smooth, steady action. The free hand applies continuous moderate pressure to the child's abdomen, between navel and ribs, to prevent the stomach from being filled with air.

Tips for Buying
Kitchen Knives

Here are some tips on buying kitchen knives. They come from a home management specialist at the University of Illinois.

Catherine M. Sullivan says that high-carbon steel blades take and hold an edge well.
Many stainless steel knives are not satisfactory because they do not have this high-carbon content.

If you want a stainless blade with a good cutting edge, a chromium plating on high-carbon steel may be a good choice.
If you are interested in performance rather than appearance, your choice may be a high-carbon steel blade that will need an occasional scouring.

Take a look at the blade. It it tapers from handle to point and from back to cutting edge, it will have the proper spring and can be ground to a good edge.
It should extend at least halfway into the handle and be fastened with two or three rivets. A full-tang blade—one that extends the full length of the handle—is a good feature.

Now check the construction.
Hold the knife and pretend that you're cutting or peeling something. Does it fit your hand? Is the handle long enough? Too long? Too bulky? Too slender?
Does your finger slip onto the blade?

Now look at the construction and finish of the handle. Smooth hardwood, hard rubber or plastic handles take hard wear. Painted handles may peel, and unfinished wood handles may absorb moisture and become rough.

Dairy Cattle
Show Will Be Held Oct. 9-15

The continent's biggest dairy cattle exposition, the International Dairy Show, is being readied for its 5th annual edition Oct. 9 to 15 in Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

It will bring together the best purebred dairy cattle from this country and Canada, according to W. A. Wentworth, of Frankfort, Ky., President. The competition is the final one of the year, bringing top state fair winners together for this the "World Series" of dairy cattle shows.

Entries are expected to top last year's 2,000 head of cattle.
The National Jersey show is slated again this year, and the Jersey breed will have its first National Jersey Junior Show at Chicago this year for boy and girl owners. The Guernsey breed will have its first National Futurity for 3-year-old cows at the Chicago exposition.

Cash Prizes Larger

Cash prizes total nearly $47-000 this year, the largest ever offered at the Chicago show.

Top entertainment will again be the International "Golden Spurs" Rodeo, testing man against beast in dangerous and exciting competitions of the cowboy sport. It attracts the country's leading rodeo contestants, Rex Allen, popular cinema and TV star, will appear at all performances.

Other events will include the

The order directed the 8th and 10th streets crossings be closed after the protective measures are, installed at the other three crossings.

Cost for 6th street was estimated at $7,000; for 9th street $33,000. The crossing at 11th street now has manually controlled flasher signals and gates.

The ICC pointed out that city of Lockport engineers have prepared plans for a $35,741 bridge over the canal at 10th street, but as yet no money has been appropriated by the city.

A count by the railroad showed a daily average of 12 passenger trains and eight freight trains pass the five crossings.

Time table speed for passen-

Sparkler Firm
Fights New Law

(CNS) Illinois' only sparkler manufacturer has challenged as unconstitutional a new state law banning their sale in this state.

The law suit was filed Thursday in Superior Court in Leyden township. Its attorney Erwin H. Greenberg, charged the new law, which became effective July 8 is unreasonable discrimination in that it failed specifically to prohibit use of a sale of sparklers in Illinois shipped in from other states.

The complaint also seeks an injunction restraining the state from interfering with the company's operations pending outcome of the case. Named defendants are Joseph Bibb, state public safety department director and Latham Castle, attorney general.

Acme, which employs 50 people, says it is the only business in Illinois making sparklers to its knowledge. It maintains its sparklers contain no explosives, are safe and in no way dangerous or harmful.

The company was organized in 1939 and by its own statement has an equipment investment exceeding $100,000 and an annual income from the sale of sparklers in Illinois exceeding $500,000.

The suit contends the new law an amendment to the fire works act, is an invalid attempt to use state police powers and is not related to the public welfare, safety, health or morals.

A high velocity gun that uses steam-heated helium instead of gun powder to propel bullets is being fired at the Naval Ordina-ance Laboratory, Silver Springs, Md., to test the flight characteristics of projectiles.

A SPARKLING ARRAY OF TOP ENTERTAINMENT
PERSONALITIES will be featured at the Illinois State Fair.
Opening night (August 9) cast will include such stars as Russell Arms of "Hit Parade" fame; Brenda Lee, nine-year-old singing sensation; Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander; Mimi Benzell, famous opera and concert star; the Vikings; and Hal McIntyre's Orchestra.
Saturday, August 17, James Arness, "Marshall Matt Dillon" of TV fame, will head a host of well-known artists. They include Dennis James, Dick Shawn, the Diamonds and Duke Ellington's Orchestra. Write the Illinois State Fair, Springfield, for tickets and entertainment information.

THIS WEEK

-In Washington

With
CLINTON DAVIDSON

Spokesmen for more than three million farmers are meeting here this week in what may be the most significant farm development in years.

Officials of 23 national and regional farm cooperative organizations, plus the National Grange, are pooling their ideas for the development of an entirely new farm program.

The talk is about such things as two-price plans, domestic parity, self-help programs, commodity agreements, price supports, production controls, and increased markets.

A brand new organization calling itself the National Association of Commodity Organizations is sponsoring the meeting. The Association grew out of an "exploratory" meeting of 11 commodity organizations here in May.

The idea of national conference to discuss both old and new farm proposals went over with a bang. Twelve additional commodity organizations and the Grange quickly joined the movement.

Father of the idea and spark-plug of the movement is C. L. "Mike" Norton, a former USDA official now head of the Washington headquarters of the National Milk Producers Federation.

The list of organizations represented reads like the "Who's Who" of farmer cooperatives. Among them are American Soybean Assn., American Rice Growers Co-Operative Assn., National Potato Council, National Federation of Grain Cooperatives, National Wool Growers Assn., National Beef Council, National Swine Growers Council, and the International Apple Association.

The objective is to "measure" the problems of each commodity and then to "tailor" separate programs to fit each. The contention is that no single program can be tailored to fit all commodities.

Leaders expect that out of the conference will come a number of specific program recommendations dealing with the several commodities. Some of the recommendations undoubtedly would require legislation to make them effective.

The general theme is this: Farmers, through a pooling of their resources and efforts are better qualified to manage their production and marketing than is the Federal government.

The advantages claimed are: The cost of government farm program aid would be greatly reduced; production and prices would be stabilized at levels fair to both producers and consumers.

Most congressmen have indicated they favor the commodity-by-commodity development of legislation, rather than "blanket" legislation designed to cover all farmers like a tent.

The Association, however, faces two major hurdles. First, it will not be easy for 24 organizations, many with divergent interests, to agree to support not only their own but all other commodity programs.

Gives Advice on Showing Cattle

If you are planning to show a calf this summer, teach him to drink from a bucket and eat out of a show box before taking him to the fair. There will be less danger of his going off feed and water at the fair.

This advice on showing beef cattle comes from Donald Taggart, herdsman at the University of Illinois beef cattle farm.

Taggart also says it's a good idea to add a small amount of molasses to a calf's water before taking him to the fair and also at the fair. This will prevent him from noticing any change in the taste of his water.

Don't "Stuff" Him

At the fair or show grounds, keep your calf on the same ration, but don't "stuff" him. Feed him what he will clean up in 15 to 20 minutes.

Calves like to be cool and comfortable at all times. If necessary, put a makeshift fan in one corner of the stall. Flies are annoying and can be prevented by spraying or using fly baits.

When showing your calf, be sure he is clean and dry. Never show a wet calf.

In the show ring, always carry a show stick. Keep your eye on both your calf and the judge. Walk forward to lead the calf, and carry the halter strap in your right hand. After the judge handles the calf, comb the ruffled hair back into position.

Last but not least, be sure you are as neat and clean as your calf.

Population Up In State; Shows Drop on Farms

Illinois population is now estimated at 9.5 million, according to an estimate by C. L. Folse, University of Illinois rural sociologist. This figure represents an increase of 872,000 since the 1950 census was taken.

Growth made during the last seven years has been about 10 percent. Folse points out that this is equal to the increase made during the entire decade 1940-50.

During the 86 months since the last census, monthly growth has averaged slightly more than 1 percent in Illinois. But this is less than the 1.5 percent recorded for the entire nation, the sociologist concludes.

Illinois farm population is estimated to be down slightly from 1955, at which time it was estimated to be 690,000.

far short of having unanimous farm backing. It counts both the Farm Bureau and the Farmers Union as either hostile or uncooperative. The Department of Agriculture has not indicated support of the meeting.

At best it could result in workable new farm programs, and, at worst, just another division in the already badly split Farm Bloc.

Take Registrations For U. of I. Courses At Oak Forest Inst.

With all the to-do about locating the University of Illinois proposed northeast campus still dangling, southwest suburbs will again have a branch of the University of Illinois conveniently located at Oak Forest Institution, 159th and Cicero, this fall.

Two University of Illinois college credit courses offered at Oak Forest this fall are a course in Political Science, date yet to be decided, and a course in Educational Psychology held on Wednesdays beginning Sept. 18. Both classes begin at 3:30 and last three hours and offer three hours credit.

Registrations are being accepted now by Viola Ward, chairman of the educational committee at Oak Forest Institution FU 8-2360 or WA 8-4200. Prerequisites can be discussed at that time.

The classes are open to residents of the surrounding communities as well as hospital personnel.

Promote Safety For Children On the Farm

It's nice for your children to know what their daddy is doing while he is working in the field. But don't send small ones to the field alone with their father, warns O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois.

Fathers with their minds occupied and their hands full shouldn't be asked to watch small children in the field or barn, because they need to be watched constantly. A man working with a tractor or milking machine is doing a job that requires his constant attention. Divided attention means that both jobs suffer, and the accident threat to both the man and the child increases. The toddler should be protected by responsible supervision or a fenced play area when farm work moves to the driveway or barn. Children playing around trucks and machinery are often not visible to the operator.

To show children their fathers' farming activities, plan a picnic break for the morning and afternoon. When mother and the children arrive with a cool, refreshing drink and sandwich or cookies, daddy can take a break that will let him return to his work refreshed and rested. The children get their questions about the machinery answered by their father. Mother stays long enough for the children to see the machine in operation, and the curiosity of the children is safely satisfied.

The break is not only good for dad, but for mother as well. The whole family gains when an accident has been prevented.

Asks $30,000 From Policeman and City Because of Accident

(CNS) A Homewood woman has sued a Chicago Heights policeman and the city for $30,000.

She is Virginia P. Buchholz, 3242 West 185th place, Homewood. Her circuit court suit alleged Arthur Reichert, the policeman, ran a light and collided with her car at 10 am. February 5 at 15th and Chicago road, Chicago Heights.

Filed by Atty. Joseph Barbera, the complaint said she was driving north in Chicago road and Reichert east in 15th.

The perfect example of minority rule is a baby in the house.

Across The Counter . . .

Some sage has observed: "Insurance is strange. When you buy it, you don't need it. When you need it, you can't buy it."

The statement is essentially true a l-though I would contend that you need "the protection" whether you ever need "the insurance" in the sense of being reimbursed for a loss.

Bill Mulder

However, we all know a person shouldn't wait until a heart attack to apply for life insurance. Likewise, many other coverages are written with "an eye towards experience."

For example, if you have been involved in several bad car accidents, it would be harder to secure auto insurance than if you had applied before any of the accidents occurred. Similarly, with a series of burglaries, fires, embezzlements etc.

And, of course, it goes without saying that you can't order fire insurance at the moment you discover smoke and flames consuming your home. It's too late to ask for liability coverage after you've been served with the notice of a big lawsuit. Even with no unfavorable previous experience, the insurance must be ordered before the loss occurs.

Therefore, it's true that the most favorable time to purchase any kind of insurance is before you need it.

May we discuss these insurance "needs" with you? We specialize in helping people with their insurance planning. Call on us—NOW!

How to Copy Irregular Contours with Cards

HOW TO overcome a tricky problem in making a profile template of an irregular contour such as a baseboard molding is described in the accompanying illustration which appeared in Popular Mechanics.

Simply place two or more decks of playing cards in a stack. Tap the ends against the surface to be copied.

An identical contour is reproduced on the outer edge of the stack. The contour profile is easily traced on paper.

Hydronics Heating, Cooling With Water

A new word has been added to the vocabulary of the heating industry.

It is "hydronics." The word designates the science of heating and cooling with water.

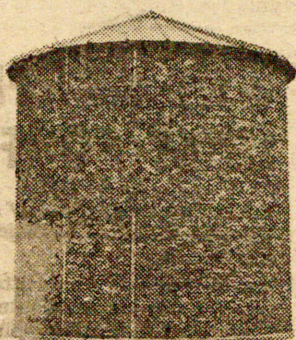

The word will be used as a descriptive term by all branches of the heating industry—manufacturers, wholesalers, and contractors, says the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau.

The new word is the result of an exhaustive study made by a Committee on Terminology of the Institute of Boiler and Radiator Manufacturers. The committee made its report at a recent semi-annual meeting of the Institute and pointed out that the word "hydronics" clearly identifies the multitude of uses of controlled water for heating and cooling.

Will Use Old Smithy Site as Parking Lot

At the request of Sheldon Hauck, oil and gas dealer of New Lenox, the Mokena village board has approved the zoning of the site of the former Helen-house blacksmith shop on Wolf road, between the Rock Island tracks and Front st., as business property.

This will permit Hauck to erect a business sign on the property and also use it for parking cars of customers of the gas station across Front

Hauck but is leased and operated by Charles Fiorey.

The board also approved creation of a no-parking zone on both sides of the street in front of the village hall. The fire department keeps its apparatus in the village building and when cars are parked in front it is difficult for the trucks to leave and enter the station.

Signs warning against parking in front of the fire station at any time will be installed and Police Chief James Smetana will see that the ban is enforced.

Five building permits were approved, one to Robert Geuther for enlarging a garage; one to James Murphy for remodeling; one to Don Helenhouse, garage; Wilbur Buske, garage and one to Wayne Cundiff for a swimming pool.

Five Pay Traffic Fines at Mokena

Three motorists were each fined $3 and costs for ignoring stop signs in Mokena and two others were assessed like penalties for parking on the wrong side of the street.

The cases were heard in the Mokena village hall last Thursday night by Justice of the Peace August Werner. The arresting officer of Mokena Police Chief James Smetana.

Charged with failure to halt for stop signs were, Howard W. Seiselmeyer, 28, 9957 S. Princeton ave., Chicago; Allan D. Florence, Jr., Yonkers, N. Y., and James Gudgeon, 49, 12734 Honore st., Blue Island.

The two who parked on the wrong side of the street were, Zane Wells, 22, 520 Truman st., Hammond, and Leland G. Smith, 21, 1218 E. Jackson st., Joliet.

Future Homemakers at Lincoln-Way Plan Swimming Party

The Lincoln-Way high school Future Homemakers of America will sponsor a swimming party Thursday, Aug. 15 at 1:30 p.m. Judy Eden and Sharon Cappel are co-chairmen of the party.

The group will meet at the high school and go to Nowell park in Joliet. Transportation will be provided. Those attending are to bring a sack lunch, swim suit and money for swimming.

This party is for all freshmen girls who are entering the high school this fall and who are interested in the Future Homemakers of America.

For more details one may communicate with Penny Spiewak, Mokena 2241; Norma Heidrich, New Lenox 8303 or Jo Ann Hansen, Frankfort 3041.

out that while the board might give unqualified approval to annexation of the property, annexation could be blocked by actions or lack of actions over which the board would have no control.

They also are hesitant because of the secrecy surrounding the project. Johansen told the board that he was unable to divulge the names of his clients nor any information about their plans.

The board did not take any action.

Foreign Aid Too Much Drain On American Taxpayers, Says Mason

By Cong. N. M. MASON

The 1957 foreign aid bill passed by the house on Friday, July 19, actually did the following—in addition to granting $3.2 billion of our taxpayers' money to foreign nations:

1. Surrendered congressional control over all future military assistance programs, over all future defense support, over all future foreign technical assistance, over all special assistance programs, and over the proposed development loan fund.

2. In making this authorization for $3.2 billion the congress ignored entirely the fact that there was on hand—appropriated but not spent—$3.2 billion for foreign aid programs.

3. The request for $3.2 billion also provided for a 2-year authorization of $1 billion, so the total amount authorized was not $3.2 billion but actually $4.2 billion.

In considering this request for $3.2 billion the congress should have considered the fact that there are $3.2 billion for foreign aid appropriated but not spent—available for use, enough to last two years without another dollar being appropriated. The congress should have considered also the fact that between 1945 and 1957 we have given out $69 billion in foreign aid.

It is past time to call a halt on this give-away program.

Excerpts from Debate

MR. GROSS (Iowa): "We have heard this afternoon about all the wonderful allies we have bought with the $70 billion extracted from our taxpayers and scattered all over the world during the last 10 years. Let me ask you how many friends we had in Korea, where we lost between 33,000 and 35,000 dead—I said 'dead'—and another 100,000 wounded. Where were all of those friends that we had already 'loaned' or given billions of dollars before the war in Korea? Will some of those who tell us we are now buying so many friends go on record and say the situation would be any different if the chips were down tomorrow or next week? Before the Korean War we had already made a $4 billion loan to the British, exclusive of everything else we have given them; a loan they have scarcely begun to pay back, and some of you voted a short time ago to postpone payments until 2008. Do you know how many dead the British left in Korea? At the last figure it was less than 600. Do you know how many dead all of our so-called allies including the British left in Korea? Do you know how many? The last figure I had was between 1,900 and 2,000."

MR. DORN (S. C.): "Is there any assurance that this money is going to buy us friends any more than the $11 billion we sent to Russia bought?"

MR. SMITH (Wisc.): "Mr. Chairman, this, in my opinion, is the greatest grant of power authorized in any bill I have ever seen come to the floor of this house. He is the language to which I refer:

"The President is authorized to make loans, credits, guarantees, or to engage in any other financing operations or transactions—

"And this is the important part of the section—

Model of Earth Satellite Now On View at Northwestern University

The first public showing of a full scale model of the earth satellite to be launched during the International Geophysical Year (IGY) began Monday, Aug. 5, at the Northwestern University Technological Institute library, Evanston.

The exhibit, loaned to the Institute by the National Science Foundation, will be open thru Aug. 14. It will be the only showing in the Chicago area.

The public is invited to see the satellite model and other IGY materials in the library on the Institute's third floor from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. every day except Sunday. In addition, evening tours, beginning at 7:30 p.m., will be conducted Monday, Wednesday and Friday of the first week. The Institute is located at Sheridan rd. and Nov. es st.

Tells Complete Story

The display features an exact model of the earth satellite that will be launched into space at an altitude of more than 200 miles. The 21 inch sphere, weighing about 20 pounds, will carry scientific apparatus to record phenomena in space and relay information to scientists on earth via a special type radio.

Also featured in the display is a second model of the satellite with a transparent side, showing some of the complex instruments it contains. The models were constructed at U. S. Naval Research Laboratories.

A third exhibit is a metal bulb representing the satellite, which circles a revolving globe to trace the approximate path of the satellite. It will pass over

TALK ABOUT

ECONOMY...

FORDS COST LESS PER MILE!

Fords cost less to buy!

No doubt about it! Model for model, Ford cars are the lowest priced* of the low-price three. And don't be fooled by those "low prices" now being quoted for some "stripped down" models in the medium-price field. Remember, a '57 Ford equipped the way most people want a car today—with automatic transmission, heater and radio—costs hundreds of dollars less than these medium-priced cars, similarly equipped.*

*Based on comparison of manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices

Fords cost less to run!

In the only nationally recognized test of gasoline economy, the 1957 Mobilgas Economy Run, a Ford Six delivered more miles per gallon than any other car entered! This, remember, was no "private test" conducted for the benefit of a single manufacturer. This was grueling competition between 12 different makes of cars... supervised by the United States Auto Club. And when the test was over, Ford led all other cars in the thing you want most—actual miles per gallon!

Fords cost less to trade!

Latest official auction sale figures on used cars show clearly that the new kind of Ford commands a higher price than either of its two low-priced competitors. The men who bid at these auctions are professional buyers—men whose very livelihood depends upon their expert knowledge of cars. They pay more for used Fords because they know that Fords hold up in value. Like thousands of Ford owners from coast to coast, they have discovered that Ford is worth more when you buy it... worth more when you sell it, too!

4-H Keeping-Fit Field Day attracted a crowd of 55 county rural young people to the Carl Sandburg high school in Orland Park on July 17th where they found out how strong and physically fit they were in relation to other young people their age.

From 9:00 in the morning until 2:00 in the afternoon the 4-H club members took part in tests so that each one would know how healthy he actually was. They also learned at the same time how to keep themselves physically fit and how to make themselves stronger and more healthy.

First the youngsters were weighed and measured and given body-type score in order to determine whether or not they were growing according to schedule. Then they ran 60 yards to check their speed and to learn how promptly their heart beat returned to normal. This was a test of breathing capacity.

Situps, broad jump and arm-pull exercises tested their muscular strength. Front and back bends checked their body flexibility. Finally, they ran 400 yards to find out how much endurance they had. Then they compared their scores with the standards to determine their fitness levels.

The field-day tests were conducted by the state 4-H club office and D. M. Hall, extension specialist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, assisted by Charles Tipton and Richard Berger, physical fitness specialists from the University.

More than 20 parents of the 4-H club members were also present to watch the activity. Five local 4-H club leaders attended.

"This day was an important milestone in the lives of the youths who took part", said William F. Whiteside, assistant farm adviser, "because it gave them scores that show how fit they are". But the experience will not mean much to them unless those who took part this year increase their training in order that they may be in better condition next year.

Mosquito Not the Only Biting Insect

All irritating bites that annoy residents of South Cook County this summer are not mosquito bites! Personnel of the South Cook County Mosquito Abatement district investigating complaints about mosquitoes and on routine inspections thruout the 340 square mile district that lies south of 87th st., have discovered that this year there is a notable increase in the chigger population. During the several days that a chigger is embedded in man's skin, it secretes an irritating fluid which causes intense itching and local swelling. It remains in one place where it entered the skin, frequently in a pore or hair follicle, and where clothing is tightest against the body. The irritation from a chigger bite lasts for several days, whereas a mosquito bite, unless infected by scratching, will frequently lose its irritation within a matter of minutes, or at most, hours.

Contrary to some opinion, chiggers are found not only in the wide open spaces of the country, but under conditions such as prevail this summer, in city lots as well - especially where dense weeds or shrubbery are found. Chiggers are found in situations having a dense ground cover of vegetation as they normally feed upon many kinds of vertebrates rabbits, mice, rats, snakes, turtles and birds seeking shelter in these places.

The Mosquito Abatement district does not attempt to control chiggers, but suggests that the most effective means of eliminating them is to mow the weeds and tall grasses which harbor the hosts that the chigger feeds on.

Puffer Urges County Board to Sandbag Developers for Schools

(CNS)—County School Superintendent Noble Puffer has urged the county board deny rezoning for big subdivisions where builders make no provisions for schools.

It was Puffer's second personal plea this year before the board and came Wednesday during the latest sign of builders' resistance to financial aid demands made upon them by school districts in unincorporated areas. A development corporation planning 230 homes in Wheeling township has balked at demands for school aid.

It is no secret that in recent months the county commissioners have delayed subdivision rezoning cases for long periods. Tired of waiting and seeing their huge land investment tied up, some builders finally agreed to donate land or money, sometimes both, to school districts.

Many builders, commissioners quickly point out, have offered help without being asked, even though there's no law requiring such donations.

The housing boom which started in 1946 has strained school capacities in many suburban sections. Racing to keep up with the heavy population increase by building additions and new schools, many districts now have exhausted their bonding power for this. There's no money left. The problem to get more money is further complicated because it takes almost two years to put new homes on the rolls and collect taxes from them.

Ordinance in Court

Puffer did not restate his earlier plea for an ordinance requiring each developer to pay $200 to $300 a lot into a school fund before the county would approve a subdivision plat.

Park Ridge has such an ordinance and is fighting to keep it in a circuit court battle with the Home Builders Council of Cook County. The case is pending but Master-in-Chancery Albert M. Sheppard has recommended the court find the law unconstitutional.

Some county board members are inclined to agree with the recommendation. The first sign of a possible policy split among commissioners came at Wednesday's meeting of the board's public service committee.

The blow by blow account starts with Commissioner John Duffy questioning whether it was the position of Puffer's office "to impede progress."

PUFFER: "No. We just want to call attention to the problem created and hope in some way to get school facilities. People have the right in this country to build homes and develop big housing sites. There's no question about that."

DUFFY: "We can't inject school problems into zoning cases. There's no connection one iota. The county board would be held up to ridicule if we reject a builder's request on the basis of school district objections."

"We certainly can't in my opinion prevent the growth of the metropolitan area because we lack this, that, or the other thing. If these builders go to court, it wouldn't take any judge too long to decide the best use of land is for homes."

PUFFER: "Our position is to convince builders that it is in their own best interest to provide school facilities. This makes his home selling job so much easier."

DUFFY: "That's only good business. No one wants to buy a home if the children have to walk three or four miles to a school."

Commissioner CHARLES CHAPLIN: "Yes. But we all know it's taken the united effort of this board to convince the builders of this."

"I agree it's not fair to put the entire load on the builder because that's like saying we won't build roads unless General Motors gives us $10 for every car it makes. But we must continue to convince builders that even tho this isn't 100 per cent right, they should see their way clear to cooperate."

Commissioner John Mackler: "I will continue to vote against rezoning where this help school districts. They're in the impossible situation of trying to build schools with no bonding power left."

Duffy: "Well, I think the legislature recognized this by just recently setting up a revolving fund of $10 million and permitting school districts to borrow from this."

Whether a split develops on the county board over this problem may be learned at its next committee hearing Aug. 12 on rezoning petitions. No action was taken on pending cases Wednesday.

Nothing gives your kitchen

THE MODERN LOOK

like a modern electric range

so modern, so clean, so cool!

... nothing cooks cleaner, cooks cooler or cooks food faster!

As this modern kitchen clearly shows, today's trend is to electricity. And perhaps the best example of this is the electric range.

Smart looking, convenient. Insulated on all 6 sides (as are all electric ovens) you get even, steady heat for baking and roasting. No guesswork with electric surface units either. The heat you set is yours automatically every time. And the heat goes directly into the bottom of the pan, not up the sides and into your kitchen.

But the thing you'll appreciate most is the way your electric range stays modern—year after year.

for cool comfort on hot days

only 29c each

Here's a new way to keep cool while working around the house or participating in sports this summer. Just dampen a KOOLPAD sweatband slightly in water... put it on... and work in relaxed comfort.

You'll welcome the delightful cooling effect. It really takes the edge off torrid summer-time heat.

Best of all, your KOOLPAD absorbs over six times its own weight in perspiration. It prevents glasses from streaking and keeps beads of sweat out of your eyes.

And here's a tip for the lady of the house: A KOOLPAD is a life-saver around the kitchen when the temperature reaches the 90's. Try one and you'll see what we mean.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The practical power of goodness and spirituality will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday, August 11.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" is the Golden Text from I Corinthians (2:12): "Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (277:7-9): "As God Himself is good and is Spirit, goodness and spirituality must be immortal."

Scriptural selections will include the following from II Corinthians (3:4,5): "And such trust have we through Christ to Godward: Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but our sufficiency is of God."

Dr. C. B. Strang to be Guest Speaker At Nazarene Church

Next Sunday evening, August 11, Dr. C. B. Strang will be the guest speaker for Sunday evening services at Tinley Park Church of the Nazarene. Dr. Strang is pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene of Chicago. He is the author of a well known Christian meditation series, and said to be a dynamic speaker. Every one is welcome!

Frankfort-Mokena To be Represented At Illinois Normal

The largest freshman class in the 100-year history of Illinois State Normal university is expected to register in September. Included will be a girl from Mokena, Jacquelyn, and one from Frankfort, Julianna Mary Lesniewicz.

The 1,200 students will be enrolled in 19 different departments which prepare teachers for all types of positions. Of these freshmen, approximately 1,000 will be in college for the first time.

All new students, along with their parents, are invited to both a convocation and picnic supper on Sunday, Sept. 8, which come at the start of Orientation week. With the help of student leaders, faculty counselors, and department heads, they then will become acquainted with ISNU life and traditions as well as with the academic program before registering.

Opens Sept. 13
University classwork gets under way Friday, Sept. 13. Among social affairs thruout the week will be a reception for new students, watermelon feed, sing and movie, freshman and all-school mixers, in addition to various open houses, dinners, and receptions given by student organizations and churches of the community.

In all 20 young men and women from Will county will enter.

Missionaries of Mormon Church Come to Mokena

Two missionaries of the Mormon church, officially known as "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints", are in Mokena to deliver a door-to-door message which they hope will bring converts.

The two are young men, elders

Martin Anderson

of the church, Martin D. Anderson and Thomas R. Atkin. They plan to make calls at every house in the village and the surrounding areas.

Mission work, they explained, is a voluntary endeavor in which those participating give two years of full-time work. They are supported by their families and during their time in the field never solicit funds nor ask financial aid of the people upon whom they call.

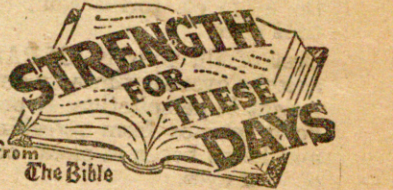

In the case of the two men in

T. R. Atkin

Mokena, Elder Anderson, whose home is Mackay, Idaho, is being supported by his parents, while in the case of Elder Atkin it is his father and wife who are financing him.

There is a Mormon congregation at Joliet, the elders said, that holds services at the Elks building on Sundays, at 10 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.

And He said unto them, Where is your faith? — (St. Luke 8, 25.)

When, distressed by troubles we feel unable to overcome, or faced with tribulations that seem beyond our strength, we may well heed the question the Lord Jesus asks us, as He asked it of His disciples. Strong in our faith that God is ever willing and ready to help, we shall always be sustained.

Mokena, whose beef female, (Sugar Bun) won the title of reserve champion. Linda's sister, Marilyn, 11, is showing two choice entries in this picture, a steer named Lucky also declared a reserve champion and another (Honey Bunch) was a second place winner. The girls are members of the Mokena 4H club. (Marvin Smith photo).

HAVE BEST MEAT PIES. Anne Lehnert 17, and Marlene Schwiesow, both of New Lenox, display their prize winning pies for which they were awarded blue ribbons in the food demonstration at the annual 4H Fair held in Peotone, Aug. 1 and 2. (Marvin Smith photo)

GETTING READY TO ROLL. Bruce Damerell, 18, of New Lenox; and Fred Weitendorf, of Frankfort, chief maintenance man of Lincoln-Way High school machine shop, make the necessary repairs and adjustments to one of the eight school buses used to transport pupils. (Marvin Smith photo)

SCHOOL ADDITION—This is a familiar scene thruout the country as steadily increasing school enrollment makes additional classrooms a necessity. Shown are workmen busy on the addition to Lincoln-Way high school. The new structure will be 98x25 feet and is located on the north side of the school.

Before this stage is reached however, the planning is done by school boards, the proposition placed before the voters and the most important step of obtaining the money to pay for additional classrooms, which eventually comes from the overburdened taxpayer who must dig deeper and ever deeper into his pockets.

SCATTERS MAILBOXES. George Haehnline views mailboxes and poles knocked over by a car driven by Fred Reimer, of Mokena, Monday morning, at 193rd, just west of Wolf road. Reimer said he lost control of his car when turning the corner on the gravel road, causing him to skid into the mailboxes. Eight of them and the poles on which they were mounted were knocked over. The car was undamaged. At court later Monday morning, Mokena justice of the peace, August Werner fined Reimer $5 and $4 costs for running a stop sign.
